

AWT Webinar: Performance Reviews: The Importance of Objective Feedback and Goal Setting

Communication between managers and employees is essential to the success of every organization, team, and individual. When communication breakdowns occur, employee satisfaction decreases, productivity declines and team morale drops. To prevent this, managers and supervisors need to be prepared to deliver accurate and effective feedback to employees. Performance reviews are a critical part of this effort. Join us for a webinar with Ryan Rybarczyk, PHR, Rybar HR Consulting, LLC, that will look at steps to prepare for an effective review, common errors made during reviews, and developing constructive feedback.
