

AWT Business Resources Committee Webinar: Making the Right Hire

The decisions employers make with regard to their hiring practices are extraordinarily important. This is especially true for service based businesses such as chemical water treaters. Hiring choices may determine whether employers are able to focus on the development of their business and their bottom lines or being forced to devote resources to the defense of time-consuming and expensive lawsuits. Join Karen Smith and Adam Green, Baker, Donelson, Bearman, Caldwell & Berkowitz, PC, on this webinar that will provide useful tips and guidance designed to assist employers in selecting the best applicant for the position and ultimately increase the likelihood that your business flourishes.
